

Prayers for the People

Many of you in North America are cutting back on your road trips for summer vacation because of the gas crisis the whole world is experiencing. Fuel prices for vehicles here is already past next year's predictions (around $7.50/ gallon) for the U.S. For those in developing countries, the crisis has hit families much harder.

As you think of it, or every time you pass a gas station, please pray for God to provide for the people of Senegal and other developing countries around the world that are facing difficult conditions right now. Praise the Lord, for He has been faithful to send rain much earlier this year (second week of June rather than the last day of July last year) and people are hopeful for the growing season, laboring in their fields with great earnest.
